

Alpha Black (A Billionaire BBW Shape Shifter Romance)

Enemies of the heart have the longest memories of all. Danielle Morgans life has just been thrown to the wolves. After her less than legal company comes after her for unknown reasons, she flees into the city, calling upon the only place she knows of for help: Her companys most hated rival. Curvy and strong willed, the last thing she is ready to do is surrender. Betrayed and left for dead by his former employer, athletic, gorgeous and wildly successful Dylan Reins has risen from the ashes to create an extremely successful security firm. He left everything in the past, including, he thought, the ability to love. In his business, those he gets close to often end up injured, or worse. It has always been better for him to simply never open that part of his heart. When Dylan receives a frantic phone call begging for help, he cant help but answer. As their paths intertwine, Danielle finds that even in the direst of situations, her heart still flutters when she meets the gorgeous man who may be the only person in the world able to help her. For Dylan, this new woman in his life is opening up doors he thought long closed within him. Can the budding love between the two of them withstand a visit from Dylans past? Or will their bond betray them, providing the opening their enemies seek? This is a 15,000+ word STANDALONE novella, with NO CLIFFHANGER. This was first published as Bear Trap, the book has not changed.
