

Veterans Resource Handbook: A Guide of Resources from Barack Obama

The Veterans Resource Handbook has many beneficial resources for our service men & women. This handbook was inspired by my brother Veteran Craig J. P. Carty while celebrating our most recent Veterans Day. I wrote to the White House to share my story never expecting to hear back from them. Much to my surprise Barack Obama responded back to us. We believe there are many other families who want their stories told. Join us in sharing this publication not only as a valuable resource but a place to tell your own personal stories. We are grateful to ALL who have served in our military keeping alive the hopes & dreams of Americans
